Bits and Pieces, Part 2 and The Truth of Twin Flames

Highlights: Twin Flames Bits and Pieces, Part 2

…"Imagine this big Light, very well protected and it's thinking for itself and it's become aware and it is so intelligent it needs more to survive – it needs more knowledge, it needs to be mobile, it needs to be active and it became aware of multiplying itself. And that's when the first micro-suns, the first ancient ones appeared. And it's them what put all us ancient ones in place.

And all us ancient ones put all the star seeds, breathed and sung in the star seeds. But not just for the Great Awakening, this was the beginning of the time - the whole plane. But you didn't even have sight really, it was just sensory – like no hearing; it was feeling yeah – feeling.

Highlight: The Truth of Twin Flames

…."How Werni's and your other divine solar parents come into this and that yeah. Majara – Werni's parents Liarah and Ela-Thar performed the binding counterpart ritual. This ritual does not create a twin flame. It recognizes a twin flame that already exists across the spiral core.

They witnessed my parents creation of me; felt the harmonic split forming and then Liarah sang the feminine echo of my spark while Ela-Thar sealed the harmonic with a solar spiral imprint.

This binding fix frequencies at the same height; made my heart fields permanently resonant and ensured that no parasite web could break my connection; linked our reincarnation cycles; attached our lineages so our children would always be the same sols in physical and non-physical."

Bits and Pieces, Part 2

"L: Are you in – everyone is in a singular pod so you're not in the same pod as your twin flame are you? Even though it is half of your consciousness.

No. Listen you see in non-physical worlds you know they are there – you know they're there and you can be with each other – you're not with each other as much as what you would be in a physical world. Don't forget, the functions of your life – your sol, we've got different functions, like we've got a different mission. We're coded pretty different. We're feminine and masculine. We're coded different. We have things to do. We collaborate and activate things. We take part in the cell systems and all that sort of thing. But light form – I say in the semi we are together - semi-light form - but it is mainly physical world and we are in here all the time. We are always in a physical world but we are not in a physical world as well you know. That's going to be one of the biggest eye- openers when you properly wake up."
